I believe it goes to the next line, so the end of line is before the next column. Is there some way to accomplish this with sed or awk? A: It would be in the format: windows 10, 2019, redstone 2, OEM or Retail (both 32 bit, 64 bit), OEM and retail versions So that one can also search in the next column, to continue with the next line, without pushing the OS Build, since you already have that info. You can then use sed like this: sed -n '/windows 10,/p' The -n part is important to skip all the lines that do not contain windows 10

CNN's Chris Cuomo 'outed' ex-sister-in-law in violent criminal, ex-wife's lawsuit
CNN's Chris Cuomo "outed" his ex-sister-in-law in a civil suit filed in New York by the same woman, who accuses him of beating her and threatening to "leave him no choice" if she left him. The woman, who was married to Chris Cuomo's brother for eight years, has sued the Long Island anchor and her soon to be ex-husband Anthony for defamation and false light invasion of privacy. In the suit, filed this past Tuesday, she accuses Chris Cuomo of "outing" her on air when he made remarks on March 13, 2017, telling viewers the ex-wife had lost custody of two of her children to Anthony and was "homeless and in danger." "She has five children with Anthony and was not going to give them up. She is now under the protective custody of the state. There was no homelessness. He is no more abusive to her than he is to me, but the show is always about my abuser," he said. The show in question was "Cuomo Prime Time," a one hour program on the Long Island News channel, which airs weekdays at 7 p.m. and 10 p.m. The woman, identified in court papers as "Jane Doe," sued the network, Chris Cuomo, and his brother Joseph, in New York Supreme Court in Nassau County on Tuesday. In a statement, Chris Cuomo said, "Jane Doe is a fraud and a liar. The truth is that
